

DGX Enhances Ocean Services to Latin America

Rancho Dominguez, California, January 7, 2014 – Dependable Global Express, Inc. (DGX), a global ocean freight forwarder and NVOCC (non-vessel operating common carrier), and the only neutral freight consolidator serving Central and South America from the U.S. West Coast, announces today the following service enhancements:

- An every other week LCL (less-than-container load) consolidation service from Los Angeles to Buenaventura, Colombia.
- A direct, weekly LCL service to Guatemala City, Guatemala

Antonio Bellido, DGX's Trade Lane Manager for Latin America indicated, "These new service offerings represent another step in expanding DGX's West Coast Central and South America service network. We will continue to develop our direct LCL network which currently consists of eight destinations on the West Coast of Latin America, as well as provide on-forwarding services from Los Angeles to remote Central and South America inland points through all eight Latin American consolidation points."

"DGX will add new services, as well as increased frequency to every Latin America destination. Our weekly service network presently includes: Guatemala; Costa Rica; Guayaquil, Ecuador; Callao, Peru, and Valparaiso, Chile, with every-other-week service to El Salvador, Panama City and Buenaventura. Weekly service to San Juan, Puerto Rico is also offered," Bellido added.
